Biography of the Prophet Study in the novel Kufic until the middle of the third century AH analytical critical study

Abstract of Thesis

Kufa is one of the first Islamic sites established in Iraq alongside Basra in the early days of Islam. It came as a natural result of the desire of Arab Muslims to raise the banner of Jihad and spread it in the name of Allah. Kufa included several intellectual radiation centers that worked to attract scholars and their leaders in their workshops and councils. The mosque is the most important of which is the mosque where the mosque, like the mosques in the city and Basra, played the central cultural role in the early era of Islam. Kufa is the capital of the Islamic state in the year (36 AH / 656 AD) as he worked on him to develop the scientific movement and the story of the correct prophetic biography by delivering some of the eloquent speeches included by the approach of rhetoric in the mosque of Kufa.
